We hope you find this informative and that you enjoy the stories we've included this issue. As always, check out our website for more information.

Welcome Jordan Jacobsen!

The Nebraska State Suicide Prevention Coalition would like to extend a warm welcome to Jordan Jacobsen, our new Suicide Prevention and Returning Military Outreach Coordinator at Interchurch Ministries of Nebraska (IMN)! Jordan will provide assistance and resources to military families.

Jordan graduated from Concordia University in Seward this past December with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and a minor in Sociology. He moved with his wife and four pets to Lincoln from Jacksonville, North Carolina where he was stationed while serving in the United States Marine Corps.

"The awesome opportunity to help and serve others [brought me to IMN]," Jordan said.

IMN resources cover information on suicide prevention, means restriction, and military service member and family reintegration. Jordan will help to provide information through diversified media such as books, pamphlets, and videos. IMN is also involved with the Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR) Training which is a gatekeeper training program for those who come in contact with youth across the state.

Together with Interchurch Ministries, Jordan is joining the effort to promote suicide prevention in our state. A big thank you and welcome to Jordan and the Interchurch Ministries team!
